Washington, Nov. 2.—Chairman Borah of the senate campaign fund investigating committee said today the committee would not issue a statement summarizing the testimony produced at its public hearing. "The best statement," he said, "is in the figures which came in today and which speak for themselves."

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Washington, Nov. 2.—Contributions of $421,431 and expenditures of $529,280 during the five days from Oct. 21 to Oct. 25 were reported today to the senate campaign fund investigating committee by the republican national committee. Mayor Frank D. Palmer Gives His Endorsement to Governor in Statement

The Evening Telegraph presents herewith a communication from Mayor Frank D. Palmer executive head of the City Government in Dixon. Mayor Palmer says:

"Tomorrow's election is a very important one to Dixon and Lee County for it will be of immense value to this community to have Governor Len Small re-elected.

"Governor Small is entitled to re-election because of the splendid record of his administration.

"But it is especially necessary that he be re-elected so that he can continue and complete the wonderful highway system in this and other communities in the state. We want the roads and we KNOW that Governor Small will see that we get them if we re-elect him.

"In appreciation of what he has already done for us and in order that he may continue his good work, I hope to see Governor Small get a big vote in Lee County.

"There has been a great deal of misrepresentation about the character and actions of Governor Small. His enemies continually accuse him of things of which the courts have repeatedly found him innocent. I hope that the voters of this community will not be misled by these false and malicious charges. No act of Governor Small's official life has been dishonorable. His record in office has been one of ability and economy and careful watchfulness over the interests of the common people.

Yours sincerely,
FRANK D. PALMER, Mayor."

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK'S INCOME TAX WAS $25,000

Singer Who Appears in Dixon Wednesday is Aid to Government.

Publicity on income taxes has touched the celebrities of the musical world and Dixonites will be interested to know of the returns made by two of the most famous of all singers who have appeared before Dixon audiences.

Madam Amelita Galli-Curci who has taken London by storm with the same flawless art that she exhibited here on the Assembly Grounds according to newspaper figures paid Uncle Sam the sum of approximately $2000.00.

The famous Madam Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who will again greet a Dixon audience at the Dixon Theater Wednesday evening, enriched the government's coffers to the extent of $25,000.00 newspapers report.

The combined annual earnings of these two queens of song would buy an island kingdom in the South Seas, a statistician would tell you but nevertheless the reason for their popularity is their great art and the public has accepted them for what they are, the two most exceptional artists in the world.

Madam Schumann-Heink and her company will appear at the Dixon Theater next Wednesday night, in one of her greatest programs. It is advisable to make seat reservations immediately. Manager L. G. Rorer advises owing to the demand from suburban communities for choice locations for this gala event.

Not a "Hell Maria" in Over a Hundred Speeches by Dawes

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Evanston, Ill., Nov. 2.—Charles G. Dawes, made something over a hundred speeches in his campaign as republican nominee for vice president without a single "Hell Maria"—the phrase with which he broke into print and into national prominence in 1919 when he returned from France after the World War.

A backward look today over Mr. Dawes' campaign utterances showed he had left a collection of such terms as "pee-wit politicians," "political demagogues" and "cowardly, trimming, time-serving politicians" from Wyoming to Maine. But the "Hell Maria" for which some of his audiences obviously waited never came forth.

Mr. Dawes today, admitting he was "just a bit tired," rested and read and smoked his pipe at his home here, while waiting to see whether he would go to Washington next March to assume the vice presidency or return to the quiet life he planned for himself last spring when he laid down his work as head of the reparations commission's experts commission.

Former Dixon Man is Among Real Optimists

Capt. Edward Dayton, former Dixonite, has become a public speaker of note to become one. Kenosha, Wis., where Capt. Dayton now resides, has an Optimists' Club, as well as Rotary and Kiwanis, and Ed is to speak before the Optimists today. The Kenosha Daily News says:

"The needs of our city are numerous, so say many people. He is a real optimist who realizes the shortcomings of his community and sets out to remedy them. Such a man is Captain Edward Dayton, who was kindly consented to address the Optimist club at its noon luncheon next Monday. Captain Dayton has a real vision of the needs of Kenosha. Through his energy and perseverance, there was erected a splendid theater, office and store building. For several years he pushed the hotel project until at last the much needed enterprise is well under way. Meeting discouragement at every turn, he always came back smiling. Optimistic Ed has a story of interest to every real Optimist and all should hear him."

Fraud Charged in Cuba's Election for President

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Charges that Saturday's election in which, according to virtually complete figures compiled by the government he was defeated for president by General Machado, liberal, was illegal because of frauds, were made in a signed statement made public today by former President Menocal, conservative. The statement was also signed by Domingo Mendez Capote, conservative candidate for vice president.

Davis' Long Trail at End After Night Speech

By Associated Press Leased Wire. New York, Nov. 2.—The long trail blazed by John W. Davis since he began his campaign for the presidency, reached its end today. Only a motor trip from his home in Locust Valley to a New York studio where his last political address will be broadcast by radio tonight remained to bring his campaign mileage to its grand total.

MILITARY IN CONTROL AT NILES TODAY

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire. Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Modified martial law will be maintained at Niles at least throughout tomorrow and tomorrow night, it was stated at the governor's office today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Niles, O., Nov. 3.—Examination of witnesses in an effort to fix the responsibility for Saturday's rioting between the Ku Klux Klan and anti-Klansmen, was started by the military board under Major Gen. B. W. Hough today. The board, it was stated, is seeking only testimony which will show inciting to riot or assault to wound or kill, General Hough said.

Evidence will be turned over to the civil authorities for criminal prosecution. The board may be continued after the qualified martial law is lifted, to continue investigations. General Hough intimated.

Approximately 350 troopers will remain here over tomorrow to prevent any possible disturbances during the voting. During the day flying squadrons will be kept at military headquarters.

Thirteen Known Dead.

The list of known wounded as the result of skirmishes remained at 13. Only a comparative few national guardsmen remained on duty. Twenty arrests were made yesterday, most of them on charges of intoxication while several found to be carrying concealed weapons were so charged. These were rounded up by national guardsmen. All will be tried in civil courts.

Mayor Harvey C. Kistler today issued the following statement to Major General B. W. Hough, military commander: "I wish to state I have done my whole duty in connection with the recent disturbance and I invite an investigation by the governor and will abide by his decision." (Signed) "Harvey C. Kistler, Mayor of Niles."

This speech will be broadcast to practically every section of the country by an extensive radio system arranged by the republican national committee.

In each instance in which Grange has carried the ball he has made an average distance of 10 yards. These have netted him 54 points. On the defensive he has intercepted two forward passes.

CORNELIUS COLE, OLDEST SENATOR, IS DEAD TODAY

Died at Age of 102; Went to California With Settlers.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—Cornelius Cole, former U. S. senator, 102 years and two months of age, died at his residence here today.

The direct cause of death, physicians announced was incipient pneumonia, old age and a touch of heart disease.

Cornelius Cole was a survivor of the most striking and picturesque period in the history of California—the era of the placer miner, the Vigilantes, the Pony Express and the transcontinental railway builders; of momentous political and social controversies, startling crimes and summary punishments.

Mr. Cole, who celebrated the 102nd anniversary of his birth September 17, 1824, arrived in California when he was 27 years of age, and became a member of the first gold-seeking party to reach the Sacramento Valley overland from the East in the rush of 1849. Every one of those hardy pioneers who survived the perils of the trail and trooped into the Golden West in the stirring days of '49 had just one object in view—the discovery of pay dirt—and Cornelius Cole was no exception.

But as time wore on and the ceaseless hunt for gold came to be regarded in the light of a permanent institution, there were some who called up memories of the comfortable civilization that had been left behind in the distant East, and with these memories came a desire for leaders. Among the latter Cornelius Cole was an exception.

He stuck to mining for gold, as did everyone else, but he also found time to serve the new county of Sacramento in the capacity of district attorney at a moment when the legally constituted authorities were taking from the Vigilantes the reins of law and order. This guided his steps along other political paths, and he became the real leader in the fight to keep California on the list of Free States. He took a prominent part in organizing the republican party of the Golden State, and later served on the republican national committee as the first California representative.

As an indication of the range of his political career and that his wife who shared his early experiences, it is sufficient to note that he was chosen a delegate to the convention (Continued on Page 2)

WIDOW OF LATE PRESIDENT VERY ILL AT MARION

Condition of Mrs. W. G. Harding Reported to Be Serious.

Marion, O., Nov. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of the late President, was reported today to be in a critical condition at the home here of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer. She is suffering with kidney trouble.

Mrs. Harding has been ill for several weeks, and has failed considerably since the recent death of Brig. General Charles E. Sawyer, who was her personal physician and who was personal physician to Mr. Harding when he occupied the White House. It became known today that yesterday Dr. C. Wood of Cleveland was called to Marion for consultation. Mrs. Harding is making her home at White Oaks Farm, the home of the late General Sawyer.

Dr. Carl W. Sawyer today issued this bulletin: Mrs. Harding's condition remains practically the same as last week. She has developed a number of symptoms that were present in her serious attack in 1922 in the White House. Other complications have arisen which were not present at that time and her condition now is rather serious.

Friends of Mrs. Harding say she has suffered with kidney trouble for years, but they attribute her present illness to the shock caused by General Sawyer's recent death following so closely the death of her husband a little more than a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Olson, of Davenport, spent the week end with Mrs. George Rollins of this city. The ladies are sisters.

NEGRO, ORDERED TO LEAVE DIXON, SAID TO HAVE TAKEN CAR

Arrested in Suburb of Chicago While Fleeing from "Robbed" Gang?

Charles Smith, colored, chef at the Nachusa Tavern, chose to leave Dixon last evening about 7:30 and is reported to have taken a Hudson coach belonging to Frank Farnum and succeeded in getting as far away as Forest Park, a suburb of Chicago, where he fell prey to a motorcycle officer, who arrested him for driving through the suburb without dimming his lights. He was arrested and held awaiting the arrival of officers from Dixon. Chief J. D. Van Bibber and Sheriff E. C. Risley went to Forest Park this morning to bring him back.

Mr. Farnum had parked his car on Ottawa avenue, just south of the Nettz garage and reported the theft at 8:40. A salesman in the garage had noticed the car being driven down the hill past the garage about 25 minutes before the theft was reported. Chief Van Bibber notified the police of all surrounding cities, giving them a description of the car and about 2 o'clock this morning a telephone message was received from Forest Park, stating that Smith was being held.

Said Car Was Employer's
The Forest Park police stated that he was arrested about midnight while driving through the village without dimming his lights. At the police station Smith is said to have stated that the car he was driving was the property of his employer, C. E. Butterfield of the Nachusa Tavern at Dixon, and that he was driving into Chicago to bring Mr. Butterfield home. A telephone inquiry informed the Forest Park police that Mr. Butterfield was in Dixon and his car in a garage. The local police were then notified and they ordered that Smith be held.

Mr. Farnum went to Chicago early this morning to bring back the stolen car. He did not desire to secure a warrant for Smith's arrest and Chief Van Bibber went before Justice Albert Hanneken and secured a state warrant which he took with him to Forest Park.

Maybe He Was Scared.
Smith's alleged theft of the car to get away from Dixon is believed to have been prompted by a visit paid him by four unknown parties about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, according to the story he told the police Saturday. He said that he was awakened about 1 o'clock Saturday morning by the presence of four masked and armed men with revolvers who stood in his room, which is in the basement of the hotel.

RECORD VOTE TOMORROW IS EXPECTATION

Hardest Campaign Will be Decided at Polls of the Country

Washington, Nov. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—The campaign of 1924 is passing through its final hours in a swirl of activity destined to make political history.

For the first time two presidential candidates, President Coolidge and J. W. Davis, are preparing to address an election-day message to the same audience, a radio audience that will extend the country over.

Two candidates for the vice presidency likewise are upsetting precedent by continuing through pre-election Monday their speaking campaigns. Governor Bryan is completing a swing through his home state of Nebraska and Senator Wheeler is winding up his coast speech making tour in Baltimore.

Senator LaFollette having laid his case finally before the people in a Saturday night address at Cleveland, has returned to his home in Madison and Charles G. Dawes is awaiting in Evanston the verdict of tomorrow's balloting.

Managers for all three of the presidential tickets after making the usual pre-election claim to victory, devoted much of today to perfecting machinery to get out the vote.

A fair weather forecast for most of the country fitted in with these preparations and appeared to presage a record vote.

Besides making a decision among the three presidential candidates, the voters will choose tomorrow the complete membership of a new house of representatives, thirty-four U. S. senators, 34 governors of states and a host of local officials.

Party Lines Attacked
In several states the local campaign has seen an almost complete obliteration of party lines. The LaFollette movement, seeking strength from both of the old parties and helping democrats in some localities and republicans in others, has turned topsy-turvy the established order in more than one political community in the west. In other localities the Klan issue has operated with equal force to tear down party alignments and cloud the outcome with uncertainty.

The republican claim to national victory is based on an assumption that Coolidge and Dawes will sweep both the east and west and cut into the border land of the solid south. The democrats declare Davis and Bryan will take the border states as well as the south, and will nose out a victory by a combination of doubtful states in the east and west.

The major strength of LaFollette and Wheeler is conceded to be in the northwest with Wisconsin as its corner stone.

MID-WEST IS AROUSED

Chicago, Nov. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—Heavy voting in the election tomorrow was anticipated in the midwest by political leaders as the three-cornered campaign for president overshadowed most state issues.

In spite of the interest in the presidential choice, great interest in some states was manifested by such issues as the Ku Klux Klan in Illinois, Kansas and some other states and the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor of Texas.

In Kansas, the gubernatorial race is a three-cornered one with William Allen White, Emporia editor, running as an independent squarely opposed to the Ku Klux Klan.

Gov. Small Confident
In Illinois the Klan issue was brought out by opponents of Governor Small, republican. The campaigns of Judge Norman L. Jones, democratic gubernatorial nominee and of Gov. Small have been vigorous and although the governor and his supporters claimed confidence of his election, Judge Jones' forces declared a recent trend indicated he would be the people's choice.

While Robert M. LaFollette, independent candidate for president, and Charles G. Dawes, the republican nominee for vice president, were at their homes at Madison and Evanston respectively their speaking campaigns ended. Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, democratic vice

WHICH FOUR PRESIDENTS WERE CLOSELY RELATED?
John Quincy Adams, the sixth President, was the son of John Adams, the second President; Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third President, was the grandson of William Henry Harrison, the ninth President. Bostonians are "first cousins" to your feet—the inside shape of the shoe matches the outside of your foot. That is why they fit so well and wear long. Look them over in the window. 11

SQUIRRELS, RATS ARE BLAMED FOR PNEUMONIA, NOW

State and Federal Experts to Los Angeles to Aid Fight.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—State and federal health authorities today were moving to the aid of Los Angeles in its grim battle to block the spread of an outbreak of pneumonic plague that at last reports had claimed a total of 21 victims in the Mexican quarter of the city. Ten cases under treatment at the general hospital were said to be critical today.

Doctors Kellogg and Halliday, state health department experts, arrived from San Francisco yesterday and were to be joined today by Dr. Walter Dickie. Another specialist was reported from United States Public Health headquarters in Washington, to be on his way here.

Dr. Kellogg surveyed the situation here yesterday and announced that prospects for bringing it under control were good.

Ground squirrels probably carried the disease to Los Angeles and communicated it to rats who in turn possibly transmitted it to the human victims through the intermediary agency of a flea, Dr. Kellogg said in discussing the history of the plague in the United States.

Seek to Fix Blame for Death Ten on Crossing
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 3.—Efforts to fix blame for the trolley tragedy in which ten persons lost their lives and more than thirty others were injured, when a street car was wrecked by a freight train early yesterday, today were resolved into five separate investigations. Officials of the city, the county, the state, the railroad and the surface lines will begin their efforts in the attempt to determine responsibility.

The fact that safety gates were not down when the trolley reached the crossing resulted in questioning of the watchman in the crossing tower. He was said to have admitted taking "a few drinks" before the accident. He was ordered held by the coroner.

Execution of Leader of Persian Mob is Reported

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 3.—Execution by the Persian government of Seyid Hussein, ring leader of the mob which murdered American Vice Consul Imbrie in Teheran, was reported officially today to the state department. Another man was executed for the crime at the same time.

The death sentences were carried out after the Washington government had insisted that the two men must receive the extreme penalty despite a decision by the Persian cabinet to commute their sentences. A third man found guilty and sentenced to death was executed some time ago.

A score of members of the mob which killed Imbrie have been given lesser sentences.

The Persian government also has made substantial payments to Imbrie's widow and has professed its readiness to meet the entire cost of bringing Imbrie's body home for burial. The Persian army officer in command of the forces which should have protected Imbrie has been placed under arrest preparatory to trial.

Mad Man Gave Officers Interest Fight Sunday
Alpheus Leroy Adams made things interesting for five officers, police and deputy sheriffs Sunday afternoon about 1:30, and this afternoon was taken to the state hospital for insane at Watertown. Chief VanBibber received a telephone call about noon Sunday, stating that Adams, who was in a demented condition, was flourishing a revolver and threatening to kill members of his family. The chief answered the call and took a 38 caliber revolver from the man.

About 1:30 the chief and four deputies from the sheriff's office went to the Al Sherman residence on West Boyd street, where Adams was staying, to take him in custody. At the police station, he is said to have turned on the officers and with a heavy cane made things interesting for a short time until he was subdued and placed in a cell. This morning he was adjudged insane by a commission of physicians and committed to the Watertown asylum. Adams is said to have been committed to insane institutions four times previous to this one.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—Apple Keeps Moisture.

Keep an apple in your cake box to keep your cake moist. See, of course, that the apple is a perfect one and change when it shows any signs of decay.

Removes Grease. Ether or chloroform will remove grease from delicate fabrics.

To Clean Ivory. Lemon Juice and Whiting makes a good paste with which to clean ivory bangles.

Use Paper. After you have washed a mirror you can put on a good polish by going over the surface with crumpled news paper or tissue paper.

To Keep Brooms. If you do not keep your brooms hanging up from nails, stand them in an inverted position if you wish to keep them in good shape.

To Hold Gravy. Gravy will not soak through the bottom crust of meat pies if you brush over the bottom crust with the white of an egg.

Use Celery Tips. The tender tips of celery are de-licious in chicken or vegetable salads.

WEEKEND GUESTS AT PIERCE RESIDENCE—Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mosher of Woodstock and John Ryan of Harvard, Ill., were weekend guests at the Winfield Pierce residence.

FASHIONS—Sleeveless vests of quilted taffeta or satin add extra warmth to a coat or suit that is not sufficiently warm for cold weather.

A most attractive gown of white chiffon clings closely to the figure and is covered with small fringes of black and crystal beads that give the effect of a frozen fountain.

Velvet in very bright shades is liked for evening gowns and wraps and needs nothing in the way of trimming or adornment.

Coats for school girls are cut very much on the line and general plan of those designed for grown-ups and have interesting scarf and cape arrangements.

Revers are noticed on evening and dinner gowns as well as on street frocks and they are very novel developed in then crepe and chiffons.

did not know just when, and his wife, celebrated his birthday at the same time in a happy surprise Hallowe'en party Friday evening. The Barron home was beautifully decorated in Japanese lanterns, orange and black paper, Jack-o'-lanterns, corn stalks, etc.
Various interesting Hallowe'en
games and stunts were enjoyed.
The hostess gave prizes for the best ghost stories and Mrs. George Brady and Charles Duis were awarded the prizes for relating the most hair-raising yarns.
Delicious refreshments were served and a decidedly enjoyable evening was spent by all. The host was presented with a nice box of cigars with the best wishes for happy returns of the day from his friends.

SPECIAL REVIVAL BEGINS TUESDAY, CHRISTIAN CH.

W. B. Slater of Moline to Conduct Meetings for a Fortnight.

W. B. Slater of Moline will open special revival services tomorrow evening in the Dixon Christian church, which are planned to continue two weeks. Mrs. J. E. Reagan and the regular choir of the church will direct the music. The Dixon pastor will supply the Moline church on Sundays.

Mr. Slater comes highly recommended as a pastor-evangelist. Ten years ago, when he assumed the pastorate of the Moline church, it was a feeble mission-point, of less than a hundred members; but today is a vigorous congregation of over five hundred, contributing liberally to every co-operative and missionary enterprise, and is a large factor in the Tri-Cities Christian Missionary Union, recently formed. Mr. Slater is also a prominent church leader, having been for many years the Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Societies of the Northwest District.
They have two sons who are ministers, one a Junior in Eureka College, the other just completing his course in Washington University, St. Louis, preparatory to service as a medical missionary abroad.

Last year, in addition to his pastoral work, Mr. Slater held excellent revivals in the Christian churches at New Bedford and Galesburg. During his stay in Dixon, he will be entertained in the home of H. W. Stauffer, 313 E. Fellows street.

The public is cordially invited to the services, which will begin at 7:30 each evening, starting tomorrow night.

Notes.

The vocal solo of Miss Josephine
Trottnow, and the readings by Mrs.
J. E. Reagan were especially enjoyed by the Colony patients yesterday afternoon. Dr. Murray and his staff co-operate splendidly with the Dixon ministers in trying to make these Sunday services comfortable and profitable, but along with other much needed equipment for the growing work of the Colony, a chapel building is one that has a place.

Tuesday afternoon the November meeting of the W. M. S. will be held with Mrs. F. E. Self, 1009 Highland avenue. Wednesday afternoon, the Society has accepted the Sterling ladies' invitation to a missionary reception at the Christian church, and a large delegation from here will attend.

The Endeavorers are co-operating in the City C. E. Union's plan to bring a lecturer, Dr. Payne, who will give an illustrated travelogue, promoting the National C. E. convention, to be held in Portland next year.

Under Supt. Cox, the Bible School is making good advances. Two hundred and one yesterday is the best attendance for some months. The intra-class contest of the Loyal Men, directed by Captains Flamingham and Gigous, bids fair to arouse much interest among the men. During the Slater revival, it is hoped the school will make such growth as to enable it to record a total attendance for November of at least a thousand.
Lack of room for separate classes is a handicap that is being felt more and more, but the most is being made by willing and efficient teachers of the limited space and equipment.

REPUBLICANS, VOTE STRAIGHT.

When you go to the polls tomorrow there is only one way in which you can most effectively show your faith in Republicanism and Republican principles—in which you can register your pride in the achievements of the Republican party from Lincoln to Coolidge, and that is by putting your cross in the circle in the upper left-hand corner of the big ballot. Put your cross in the Republican circle and VOTE THE TICKET STRAIGHT.

USE YOUR BALLOT.

The battle of ballots will be fought tomorrow. You as a voter have been given a ballot to use in this battle and it is just as big and just as deadly as ballot of Wall Street's greatest leader, or the President of the United States or any other individual. Do you value it enough to use it? You would value it if you lost it. Why not appreciate it now that you have it, and use it to its best advantage?

Let every voter vote so that the selections of officials in tomorrow's election will be the will of the majority of all the people. No matter how you vote, we urge every man and woman to take enough interest in state and nation to go to the polls and vote the big ballot and all the small ones.

THE PEOPLE WILL SPEAK.

For many weeks, in fact for months, the newspapers have bombarded a tired people with columns and pages of political propaganda. There have been charges and counter charges and if we are to believe even a part of all of this great volume of personal abuse, the Republican standard bearers in this state are a pretty tough bunch.

Tomorrow night we will know how far the voters of Illinois have been swayed by all this personal abuse and mud-slinging, for the people will speak at the polls tomorrow. We think we could tell you right now what they'll say, but the returns tomorrow night will be more convincing than anything we can tell you today.

We think the voters of all parties in this state have been "over-charged" with lies about Len Small and others on the state ticket. We think they realize that these charges are brought by personal enemies of the Governor and that they will therefore consider them with a pinch of salt. We believe the voters know that the Governor's enemies had him in court several times and used their millions in money and their armies of witnesses in every effort to convince several juries and that they failed. We believe the voters of Illinois favor fair play and are willing to abide by the decision of our courts rather than listen to discredited, disproven cries of a disgruntled beaten group of spoilsmen who could not control Len Small so tried to ruin him. We do not believe that the average voter in Illinois is so "red" that a court decision means nothing to him or to her. We can not believe that the voters approve of the type of campaign the Democrats and the "Assistant-Democrats" have been carrying on in Lee County and all over the state. Nor do we think that the citizens of Illinois will turn this state over to Boss Brennan of Chicago by electing Jones for Governor.

The contemptible tactics of the opposition have caused a revolt among fair-minded people.

The anonymous cowardly authors of eleventh-hour "roar-backs" have not aided their cause, we have reason to believe. Perhaps such methods deserve retaliation in kind but the difficulty is that the skulking authors of the afore mentioned "roar-backs" are the only persons we know of who have the unfortunate make-up best fitted for such work. Furthermore, this campaign, and the primary campaign were carried on by The Telegraph with careful regard for decency and fair play. We prefer to carry it out to the finish on that line and if there are to be personalities and gutter-snipe tactics let the other fellow do it and accept the responsibility and the consequences.

In another paragraph on this page we urge everyone to vote. We repeat it here. If the whole people speak their mind there can be no fair objection to the verdict. If we find ourselves in the minority we are prepared to bow to that will for we have faith in the honesty and judgment of the American voter.

VOTE FOR MORE GOOD ROADS.

On the ballot tomorrow is the proposition of the state of Illinois issuing an additional $100,000,000 in bonds for more good roads—for 5,000 miles more of hard roads.

The end of this year will find all of the original $60,000,000 exhausted—and a total of 3,500 miles of good roads completed as the result of the expenditure of the $60,000,000.

The question then before the electorate of Illinois at the election tomorrow is:

Shall Illinois' road-building program go ahead full speed or shall it be stopped or seriously curtailed?

It should go ahead.

The additional 5,000 miles, which $100,000,000 would make possible, would make Illinois the first state of the union in the matter of good roads, but at that would give the state only what the federal government figures a populous state should have in the way of good roads to meet modern needs and requirements.

The vote tomorrow will decide whether or not you secure in your lifetime the proper quota of highways.

There is no good reason why we should not have the good roads at the earliest possible time, for the road program would go ahead without one cent from direct taxation.

Th automobile license fees now being paid will suffice to take care of every cent of bond interest and principal.

The 1,000,000 automobilists in Illinois need the added 5,000 miles of good roads; the general public needs the good roads because improved highways, it has been demonstrated, substantially and generally increase the prosperity of a state or a community.

The good roads program, in conjunction with the Illinois Waterways, should double the prosperity and double the population of the state within comparatively few years.

The present state administration has broken all road building records of the world, and has built without graft or scandal. Illinois has received a full measure of value from the road program to date.

Governor Len Small's road building work is a known, demonstrated thing, and, largely because of his great constructive feat, he was renominated by the people last April. If re-elected, he would continue in the future along the lines of the proven road building efficiency and speed of the past.

Judge Norman L. Jones, Democratic candidate for governor, and his advisers are guilty of a serious mistake in not having in his gubernatorial state platform a ringing, clear declaration for the $100,000,000 good roads bond issue. The Democratic contender does not take a stand in opposition to good roads, but his silence on the $100,000,000 bond issue and the apparently indecisive manner in which he deals with the good roads issue in general leave some doubt as to his real position.

Judge Jones' platform is strong in criticism exceedingly weak in constructive features, both as to good roads and the Illinois waterway. Governor Small's constructive record and constructive platform are helping him before the people. Judge Jones has lost an opportunity for himself and his party by not making a vigorous constructive campaign for good roads, waterways and other upbuilding features. Maybe George E. Brennan is more to blame for this tactical blunder than the Democratic nominee, but Judge Jones must carry the burden of the mistake.

HELP! HELP! WOMEN!

The campaign to "Get Out the Vote"—to induce all citizens to vote, unlike the 1920 presidential election, where nearly half of the eligible voters stayed away from the polls—this campaign relies for its success quite as much on women as men.

Women neglect to vote just as much as men neglect to vote. National statistics are not compiled. In Illinois, only state where they kept exact track, in 1920, of women's votes, 741 out of every 1000 eligible men balloted, compared with 465 out of 1000 women.

The League of Women Voters is working untiringly to induce more women to go to the polls. By rousing women, they hope to bring out nearly seven million more votes than in 1920.

After generations of effort, women now have the same voice as men, in electing the president. This power, unused, imperils our system of democratic government.

Uncle Sam's government by majority is in danger.

Vote without fail! Vote without fail! Vote without fail!

Your vote is needed! Your vote is needed! Your vote is needed!

ACTORS JOLLY COOLIDGE.

Actors will tell you that it can be done—jolly Coolidge. They had breakfast at the White house the other day. Al Jolson, John Drew, Raymond Hitchcock, Ed. Wynne, Charlotte Greenwood and others, jesters all.

"It was a grand breakfast, I ate everything but the sausage," Jolson is reported to have told Mrs. Coolidge. (Subtle hit there as to the composition of the sausage.)

"Does that include the doilies?" the White House lady asked.

"No, ma'am," was Jolson's reply. "I've got those in my pocket."

Jolson made a bet on the train that they would make the president laugh. He won the wager, easily. Hitchcock is said to have made the presidential shoulders shake with mirth when he mounted a pail on the lawn and nominated himself for president.

The thespians had a special song, "Keep Coolidge," which Jolson had composed. Jolson wrote it and James O'Donnell Bennett of the Chicago Tribune intimates it is not quite of the measured elegance and cold dignity of the James Russell Lowell verse which the president reads. But the President liked the song and Mrs. Coolidge joined in the chorus.

This happy fraternization—president and player—was typically American. Such an event can not be imagined as taking place at Windsor castle.—Rockford Register-Gazette.

NEW ROAD PLANK.

Governor Len Small, in his speeches since the opening of the campaign has added an additional plank to his campaign platform. It is one which is of particular interest to Bureau county.

Governor Small declares that if re-elected, he will ask the next legislature to pass a bill that will give to every town and village, not provided for in the two bond issue bills, direct connection with the state hard road system. The Governor states he will have the state highway department prepare such a bill and will submit it to the legislature for its consideration.—Bureau County Republican.

A bachelor is a man who is so selfish he even wants to keep all of his troubles for himself.

And about this early bird stuff, a policeman tells us it is the early revenue officer who gets the worm.

Even if you know her face well don't get too familiar with it.

ARE WE DOWN-HEARTED?

Just as our Demo-rad friends are telling us that the starved and oppressed American people are about to be exterminated by the monopolists, we are informed that the people of this oppressed America burned up 819,000,000 gallons of gasoline in August, which was an increase of 29,000,000 gallons over July. Those awful monopolists may crush their heels upon our necks or grind our faces in the dust or do any other diabolical trick they wish, just so they don't cut off our supply of gasoline. If the many of us are pauperized by the few, as the Democratic and Third Party candidates assure us, we are not yet so pauperized that we have to get along without "gas." We have fifteen million automobiles, and they are not all centralized in the hands of a few. The "wealthy few" of whom we read so much, couldn't possibly have any use for 15,000,000 automobiles. They could not possibly travel miles enough to use up 819,000,000 gallons of gasoline per month.

The figures above quoted make our Demo-rad friends appear ridiculous.

And there are other figures that serve a similar purpose.

A few days ago Herbert Hoover delivered an address at the national radio conference and the address was broadcast so that some 20,000,000 people heard it. Among other things, Mr. Hoover told this vast audience that the American people are spending a million dollars a day for radio sets and accessories.

A nation that is spending a million dollars a day for radio and two and a half millions a day for gasoline, is not so very badly pauperized. Neither is it being held under the heel of monopoly nor having its face ground in the dust by Wall Street magnates.

Our Democratic and Third Party friends are making themselves funny when they try to be serious.

They claim a Wall Street man who stole a million lost it, but it isn't the custom.

Every man is entitled to life, liberty and freedom in the pursuit of more money.

The peddler sat on the throne in the king's place.

While Nancy and Nick and Daddy Gander were watching the King of Yum Yum Land eating the wonderful dinner that the magic fork and the magic teapot provided things were not going so well in the palace.

The peddler sat on the throne in the king's place, with the king's crown on his head and the king's golden stick in his hand and the king's velvet robe over his shoulders.

But nobody can be a king if he is a peddler at heart and the peddler was a mean peddler to begin with.

On top of that he was having indigestion, for the cook was still sulking and serving horrible meals from the kitchen. "I should at least have been made Royal Keeper of the Bird Cages," the cook kept saying over and over again to himself. "After doing a favor for everybody (what do you get?) Nothing! I can be a cook all the rest of my days. And if I have to be a cook, I am going to take it easy. I'm not going to fix a thing that I don't have to."

So for dinner he had cold mutton and salty potatoes and tough beans, and horrid pie with a soggy crust. And really the coffee was like dish-water.

When the peddler went into the royal dining room and sat down at the royal table in the royal chair, he smacked his lips (having been brought up with no manners at all) and tucked his napkin under his chin (which also showed that he had been brought up with no manners) and thumped his knife and fork on the table.

SMITH IN FINAL PLEA TO VOTERS; VOTE STRAIGHT

Says G. O. P. Has Been Sincere, Tried to Be Dignified.

By Frank L. Smith, Chairman Republican State Central Committee

Chicago—As was to be expected from the course our opponents elected to follow at the beginning, their language has grown more bitter, their conduct and charges more uncontrolled and their mud-slinging faster and more furious as the end of the campaign approaches. It is only natural but, I think, inevitable, that this should be so. They have worked themselves up to a pitch where they are irresponsible, also they now know that their kind of a campaign will be unavailing this time, as such campaigns always are. So they are furious at everything and everybody.

At Republican headquarters we have never been alarmed by this sort of campaign. We have seen such campaigns fail in the past; we were satisfied from the first this one would fail; that the public would find no merit in backbiting, mud-slinging and false alarms.

G. O. P. Is Sincere. We have tried to be dignified and we have been sincere. We have presented to the public the merits of our cause and our candidates. We have endeavored, and we believe successfully, to interest the men and women of the state in getting things done for the public good. We have left it to our opponents to snarl at accomplishment and belittle better folks than themselves.

We have a compact, harmonious organization working for the continuation in power of what we think is a great party, and for the maintenance of the principles of that party. And we believe we sensed the feeling of the voters of the state when our original estimate—not a mere guess—of 500,000 plurality for the whole Republican ticket was announced.

Since that announcement was first made, and because the public gorges has risen against a campaign of mere denunciation, distasteful misrepresentation, the assured pluralities of our candidates have gone up day by day. Hence, I now believe—and that belief is based upon reports, carefully made estimates and polls—the pluralities of Coolidge, Denen, Small and all our state candidates will run well above the half-million mark.

Last Word to Voters. For last word to the voters before they go to the polls, I repeat, with slight variation, my first words in the campaign: Our campaign has been for the Republican party and the principles of that party; it is the party which counts in state and local affairs as well as in national affairs, and therefore the best vote that can be cast is a straight Republican party vote, indicated by a cross in the Republican party circle.

To women voters: I would make these particular suggestions—which men voters already know from long experience: Aptness for abuse and double-handed facility in throwing mud is no evidence of capacity for public service; participation in party primary decisions indicates the acceptance of such decisions; a straight party vote entitles the voter to full participation in a party victory, while scratched ballots cause many regrets.

LETTER FROM MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

My Dear Leslie: I am writing this to let you know how much I am thinking of you and your mother—particularly your mother today.

She has just come back from the grave of her husband and the whole world has changed so much that she recognizes nothing except the heavy beating of a grief-stricken heart.

Although my dear husband has been dead nearly twenty years, I can remember the parting as though it had been yesterday. John was my first and only love. Men and women of my time were married younger than they are now. I was just sixteen and John was twenty.

I am a staunch believer in early marriages. To marry before your habits of life are formed gives both of you a chance to grow up together and form opinions which are the result of thrilling out experiments and experiences between you.

My dear husband lived ten years after we were married and every year found us happier than we were the last.

My mother used to say that if a young man and woman weathered the first three years they would be apt to live together until parted by death. That was true twenty-five or thirty years ago but I cannot tell anything about the married lives of those of this generation.

When I first heard that your father had passed away, I packed all my clothing so that I would be ready to leave any time you sent for me. I would have deemed it my duty to have gone over to you and been present at the funeral, had any one of you expressed a desire to have me with you.

However, I only had my trouble for my pains and in spite of my somewhat precarious health I had to unpack all my clothing and put them in place again.

Of course I had expected an invitation would come to me from your poor bereaved mother when I only met during the few days when I visited your town at the time of your wedding but I really thought you would have enjoyed my being with you on this sad occasion.

At least my son John might have sent me the money so that if I thought best I could have made the journey. But not a word from him or anyone else.

John has grown so forgetful of me lately, however, that not having a particularly thoughtful wife to keep him in the path of duty, I was not surprised that he did not remember me.

Consequently I have to delegate you to present my condolences to your mother.

Tell her that only a sure faith in the Lord, Who doeth all things well, can only comfort her now.

I presume, Leslie, that you think I am rather unsympathetic in this letter. My dear, if you will try and see my side of the whole matter, I expect you will understand that as I myself am so hurt and discouraged with living, that I can hardly grieve when I hear of someone else dying.

NEWS FROM DIXON

LADIES' CLASSES AT Y BEGAN IN EARNEST TODAY

Fine Interest Shown By Fair Members of Local Association.

The activities in the ladies section of the Department of Physical Education started Monday with a full complement of classes in both the gymnasium and swimming pool. The ladies' committee on physical education, of which Mrs. Sanders is chairman, met Thursday evening for the purpose of arranging the schedule of classes, and formulating such rules and regulations as were deemed necessary for the successful operating of the department. The classes in the gym and swimming pool as adopted by the committee are as follows:

Gym Afternoon Class	2:30
Swim Afternoon Class	3:15
Gym High School Girls	4:30
Swim High School Girls	5:15
Gym Business Girls	7:30
Swim Business Girls	8:15

The committee is greatly pleased to announce that the services of Miss Clara White have been secured as swimming instructor for the ladies. This announcement has been received with pleasure by the women and girls, and the ladies are all eager to learn, or improve their swimming ability, under her able leadership.

At a recent meeting of the ladies Board of Directors it was decided to "Hew to the Line" in regard to the different class attendance. The physical committee was also of the same mind so that business girls must attend their own class, and the high school girls will be restricted to their periods and will not be permitted to attend the evening class. In this way the work, especially in the gym and pool, can be conducted so that each member will receive the kind of work suited to her. One rule of special importance which the committee adopted, and which also governs the men and boys, is that "No One Is Permitted In The Pool Alone." For the safety of all concerned the ladies are asked to observe this rule strictly. From all in and enthusiastic classes all along the directions the ladies will have large line.

Ten New Members Are Taken Into Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y which met at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday noon for their regular luncheon took in five new members. Eight had applied for membership but the first five names submitted filled the club to its maximum and the remaining three were put on a waiting list until a vacancy occurs in the club. That the Hi-Y is most popular among the Senior High School students is shown by the fact that there is a waiting list of those who want to get in. No student is ever asked to join the Hi-Y but must voluntarily make application and to become a member he realizes that he must measure up to a certain standard in clean living, clean speech, clean scholarship and clean sports.

At Thursday meeting the speaker was Rev. P. H. Case who spoke on his experiences in a lumber camp. It was both humorous, interesting and instructive from his description of the bunk house to the devastating forest fire.

The new members who were voted into the club Thursday were Harold Schertner, Neil Regan, Mark Keller, Wm. Rhodes and Percy Strub. The new members who had been voted in the week previous and who were present yesterday for the first time were called upon to give two minute talks. These new members were Wm. Edwards, Oliver Rogers, Harold Ross, R. Kerst, and Richard Belcher.

Election Returns to be Received at Y Tuesday

Tomorrow being election day the Y. M. C. A. has arranged to have a strong radio set installed in the lobby. There will be a bright fire in the fireplace, the latest magazines and newspaper to read and plenty of comfortable chairs in the lobby. The general public is invited to make use of this service Tuesday evening. Between the announcing the bowling alleys will be available. These maple alleys have been put in first class shape and will be ready for the opening next Monday. If you do not bowl then use the swimming pool. It is expected that a large crowd will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the returns.

CHAMBERS URGE FAVORABLE VOTE FOR AMENDMENT

Gateway Amendm't Wins Favor of Business Men of State.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce, after conducting a referendum among the various local chambers, has decided that the most important question to be voted upon at the election on November 4 is a strictly non-political and non-partisan one, namely, the proposed "gateway amendment" to our state constitution, whereby, if carried, it will be possible hereafter, more easily to secure much-needed amendment to this basic law, which experience has proven in many respects to be archaic. At present only one article of the Constitution may be amended at one time, and it is proposed by this "gateway amendment" to allow two articles to be amended at any one time hereafter.

In practice it has been almost impossible to amend our Constitution with its present limitation of allowing but one amendment to be proposed by the legislature at any one time. The enemies in the legislature of one proposed amendment have always been able to defeat it by proposing a worthwhile one so that both have fallen between two stools. Again, it is likely that a desired change in the basic law may require the amendment of two articles which cannot be done now.

It was said in the recent defeat of the new Constitution that all that was needed was to amend the Revenue Article, and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, representing the business men of the state, believes this to be true. Our taxing laws are a disgrace and are either confiscatory or ineffective and until such Revenue Article can be amended, all our citizens, and in particular land owners, and other owners of tangible property, find themselves under a tremendous burden of unjust taxation. The remedy is in the passage of more modern tax laws which under our present Constitution the gateway amendment, one of the "little ballots" will make possible.

The Constitution now requires that to carry such amendment "a majority of the electors voting at such election" shall have voted for it.

Amendments usually fail because so many voters neglect voting on the proposition.

The State Chamber therefore urges every voter, of whatever party, to vote upon this little ballot, as failure to vote on it will mean a vote against it.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce, by its referendum vote, and by the vote of its directors, has heartily endorsed the above request as being in the best interests of every citizen.

Dreams each has its own MEANING

To be attacked in a dream by one's enemies who have been lying in ambush should be warning enough to protect yourself from your known enemies and to be careful not to make any more bad friends.

You should at all times keep your self-control for such a dream forebodes many unhappy events for you.

Interpretations

Fighting, even in dreams, brings unhappiness, for you are about to incur the enmity of someone who will do you harm.

You will lose your liberty, probably not as a convict, if you should appear in your dreams handcuffed.

If you have a gun in the house and dream of it, be sure you place it in a safe place for there is danger ahead for you.

Illness will invade your family if an empty hearse passes through your vision.

When you dream that you have been quite popular in a crowd made up entirely of the opposite sex, do not be elated, for it is only a foreshadow of the disappointments to come to you.

It may mean that you are soon to be led into embarrassment and that you will suffer greatly through gossip.

Interpretations

If you are enjoying yourself among friends you can look for good news from an unexpected quarter soon.

Jealousy aroused in a dream is only the forerunner for jealousy that will be aroused in actual life. Beware of it.

Games of chance, even though you win in your dreams, spell big losses for you unless you are careful.

Illinois Central System Shows How Government Ownership Would Increase Taxes

Government ownership of the railroads of this country would undoubtedly result in increasing substantially the amount of taxes paid by everyone else.

Government property is exempt from taxation—not only federal taxation, but state, county, municipal and other local taxation. If the railroads were owned by the government, they would be exempt from taxation, and the large sums they now pay in taxes would have to be made up by taxpayers. Shifting that burden, from the railroads would be of serious consequence to the remaining taxpayers of the country, especially in those sections where the railroads now pay a large portion of the total property tax.

The Class I railroads—those with operating revenues of a million dollars a year or more—paid taxes last year amounting to $330,956,606. Of this large sum $253,893,675 went to states, counties, municipalities and other local governments for the support of their various public enterprises.

In Iowa, for example, the Class I railroads last year paid $6,767,560 in taxes. If railway property were to become exempt from taxation, the remaining taxpayers of Iowa would have to pay $6,767,560 more taxes a year than they now do, or else expenditures for schools, roads and other public enterprises in that state would have to be curtailed by that amount. Take the schools: Last year 43.4 per cent of all the taxes paid by the Illinois Central System in Iowa went to the support of the public schools. The total amount contributed by the railroads for public education in Iowa last year was about $3,500,000. On the same basis for the entire county, the Class I railroads paid more than $100,000,000 for the support of public schools.

The Class I railroads last year paid $18,304,373 taxes in Illinois, $11,502,817 in Indiana, $3,148,910 in Kentucky, $4,292,004 in Louisiana, $3,975,763 in Mississippi, $2,903,228 in Tennessee, $2,463,157 in Alabama, $3,191,021 in Missouri, $2,658,362 in Arkansas, $2,451,445 in South Dakota, $8,514,151 in Minnesota, $4,901,860 in Nebraska and $7,275,204 in Wisconsin—just to mention the states in which the Illinois Central System lines are located. These figures do not include the taxes paid by the short line railroads. For example, in 1923 all the railroads in Illinois, including the short lines, paid more than $25,000,000 in taxes.

It is difficult to understand why any taxpayer who is informed about the results of government ownership of railroads in other countries would favor a change to government ownership of railroads in this country. If private purchasers could be found, many countries which now own their railroads would change to private ownership without delay. Germany recently voted in favor of such a move. Italy has been looking for a purchaser of its railroads and offering attractive concessions. Great Britain returned its railroads to private ownership promptly after the war. In France the net income of the privately owned railroads last year aggregated more than 732,000,000 francs, while the railroad owned by the republic had a deficit of 145,000,000 francs. The revenue of the government railroads of Switzerland has not been sufficient to meet operating expenses and interest charges in any years since 1913. In Sweden a government committee has recommended that government operation of the railroads be discontinued. A British financial mission has recommended to the government of Brazil the sale of the government-owned Central Brazil railroads. In Canada the government-owned railroads have long been a burden upon the taxpayers.

Instead of being a burden upon the other taxpayers of this country, the privately owned railroads of the United States are helping to the extent of more than $300,000,000 a year to relieve the burden upon the other taxpayers.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM, President, Illinois Central System.

the contest closes on November 10. The judges will make their decision shortly after that date and forward copies of the first prize essay to the contest directors of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Illinois Agricultural Association will select the state winner from the essays sent in by the 22 Farm Bureaus. The winner will get a $25 cash prize. Second prize will be $15, third prize $10 and the next ten best papers will each earn $3 in cash. This makes it possible for 13 of the 22 county winners to earn cash prizes in the state wide contest.

Competition will be more keen in the national contest, conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation, since there are 151 county Farm Bureaus entered from 27 states. These, however, are divided into four national regions. The boy or girl who writes the best essay in each of the four regions will be given a free trip to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in December.

Tricks of FAKE MEDIUMS

BY HOWARD THURSTON

America's Master Magician "Spirit raps" which are heard upon the surface of a table in the quiet of a darkened room, are a form of phenomena that has created great discussion for many years.

Some mediums have produced raps by pressing their finger tips firmly against the top of the table, and sliding them along the surface, in a quiet room the sound is quite audible. By rubbing the side of the shoe against a table leg, raps are sometimes obtained and they seem to come from the top of the table.

Certain mediums have also been able to produce loud raps by a peculiar dislocation of a joint of the great toe. This peculiar trick long defied detection.

More Foot Exercises

There are any number of good exercises for the feet, as Mr. Mann learned from his physical instructor. In addition to those that previously had been given here were a few more to try in the morning directly after rising:

Sit on the edge of the bed with legs crossed. Let foot hang loosely and then begin making circles with the foot. Do this first with right and then with left foot.

Foot gripping is another good exercise, particularly for the toes. Sit on the bed with feet paralleling each other. Stretch out toes and then pull them in, as though they were clutching at something.

Rising to feet, start walking about the room, gripping at the floor with each step. Be careful not to grip with the foot upon which the weight of the body rests.

If these exercises are kept up, along with other setting up exercises, strengthened foot muscles will result within a short time.

MOTHERHOOD IS LESS HAZARDOUS IN THIS STATE

Deaths from Puerperal Causes Showed Decrease in 1923.

Springfield, Ill.—Motherhood is growing less hazardous in Illinois, declares Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, who bases his statement upon statistics that have recently been compiled. Last year there were only 793 deaths in the state from puerperal causes, against 847 for 1922 and 944 in 1921. Going back to 1918, when 1160 deaths occurred, the reduction has been even more decided. "These declines have taken place in the face of a steady population," he pointed out, "and are not only a falling rate of mortality but distinct progress toward eliminating entirely that considerable percentage of puerperal deaths which is recognized by medical authorities as manifestly preventable."

"Two factors are largely responsible for the gratifying reduction in mortality connected with motherhood," said Dr. Rawlings, in commenting on the situation. "Very remarkable advancement in medical science and facilities for handling maternity cases has taken place on the one hand, and the educational service rendered by public health workers has taught people generally what to expect and demand under such circumstances on the other. Hospital development, the automobile and improved roads have conspired to increase enormously the births that occur in maternity wards. Both mother and child have a decided advantage when the hospital is chosen for the birthplace. This is indicated by the fact that the maternity mortality rate in Chicago has been consistently lower than that for the down-state during recent years. Maternity mortality was due to puerperal septicaemia, a condition due to infection from contact with some unsterilized object during labor. Last year less than one-third of the maternity deaths were due to that cause which is preventable under modern methods of caring for maternity cases."

"Greater progress in saving the motherhood of the state depends only upon an expansion of educational facilities so that all prospective mothers may realize the importance of competent medical care throughout the entire maternity period. Prenatal care is just as important as natal and post-natal care."

State Shatters Another Record in Road Building

Illinois shattered another world's record in road building during the week ending October 16. In this week 45.62 miles of pavement were constructed, bringing the total for the year up to 1089.08 miles. The world's record for one season's construction established by Illinois in 1923 was 1085 miles.

C. R. Miller, Director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, Chief Engineer, made the following statement regarding the year's progress:

"The people of Illinois have just cause to be proud of the state's road building accomplishments. Illinois holds all world's records, both for the performance of single paving mixers and for the state as a whole, for various periods of time. We expect to increase the total for the year to approximately 1200 miles before the construction season ends."

"If the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue law originated by Governor Small is approved at the coming election, an even greater road building program will be possible in the next several years. This law provides for increasing the state system of highways to about 9500 miles, the additional roads to be constructed and maintained from proceeds of the bond issue and surplus motor fees, without direct tax. If this proposal carries, Illinois will be assured of the most comprehensive road road system of any like area in the world."

During the past week, 87 paving mixers, 5600 men, and 2000 teams were employed directly on road work. The construction program is now 160 miles further advanced than it was on the same date of last year.

FARM BUREAU ESSAY CONTEST ENDS NOV. 10TH

All Papers Must Be in By Next Monday, Says Griffith.

The prize winning papers in Lee County's "Why Join the Farm Bureau" essay contest will be selected by judging committee composed of L. W. Miller, Co. Supt. of Schools; S. L. Shaw, President of Lee County Farm Bureau and L. S. Griffith, Farm Adviser, according to Farm Adviser Griffith. Choosing the winners will be difficult since there are about 75 in the contest.

Those boys and girls who have not written their essays must hurry, says County Superintendent L. W. Miller, if they are to get them in by the time the contest closes on November 10. The judges will make their decision shortly after that date and forward copies of the first prize essay to the contest directors of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Illinois Agricultural Association will select the state winner from the essays sent in by the 22 Farm Bureaus. The winner will get a $25 cash prize. Second prize will be $15, third prize $10 and the next ten best papers will each earn $3 in cash. This makes it possible for 13 of the 22 county winners to earn cash prizes in the state wide contest.

Competition will be more keen in the national contest, conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation, since there are 151 county Farm Bureaus entered from 27 states. These, however, are divided into four national regions. The boy or girl who writes the best essay in each of the four regions will be given a free trip to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in December.

IOWA TEAM GAVE DIXON LEGION A PRACTICE BATTLEDeWitt Aggregation Not in Same Class with Risley's Men.

The DeWitt, Iowa, Independents football aggregation may look good on paper and lay claim to many victories in their own state but at the Brown Field yesterday afternoon they looked very poor and were easily defeated by the Dixon Legion by a score of 20 to 0. The crowd witnessing the game was one of the smallest of the season and the contest was little less than a good practice game for the Legion. Almost every man on the Dixon squad was given an opportunity to warm himself up, Sunday being the first real good football day of the season. Even Heinze and Corkwright two cripples went in and worked up.

DeWitt won the toss and chose to defend the east goal. They kicked off to Dixon, Lazier carrying the ball ten yards before being downed. Dixon was held and punted. DeWitt tried to find an opening in the Dixon line, but failed and punted to Dixon's ten yard line, Vaughan carrying the ball back ten yards. Vaughan skirted the left end for 24 yards. Schofield failed to gain and then Vaughan was held in his tracks. Vaughan gained eight around left end and on the fourth down punted to Dixon's 29 yard line. DeWitt tried to punt back but the ball went straight into the air and it was Dixon's ball on their own 20 yard line.

Pass Took Ball Over
Schofield was carried back five yards and Vaughan snapped a pass to Wimpleberg. One of the visitors interfered with the play and DeWitt was penalized ten yards, making it Dixon's ball on their own ten yard line. Schofield was held in his tracks on an attempt to run around the left end and then Vaughan snapped a pass to Wimpleberg, who was back to the line with no one near him, for the first touchdown and Lazier kicked the goal. Dixon, 7; DeWitt, 0.

Lazier kicked off to DeWitt's 28 yard line. On three downs, the Iowans made five yards where they were held and punted to the 55 yard line. Dixon failed to gain and returned the punt. It was DeWitt's ball on the 43 yard line and at this stage they opened up their aerial. Two passes were tried and incomplete and the third Vaughan intercepted and made five yards before he was stopped. It was Dixon's ball on the 15 yard line. Vaughan found a hole in the line which netted him five yards and Schofield made five more around left end. Vaughan tore through center for five and then Lane took the ball over the line for the second touchdown. Lazier failed in his second attempt to drop kick the goal, the oval hitting the cross bar. Dixon 13; DeWitt 0.

Second Quarter
Downs relieved Vaughan in the backfield and Risley took up his position at right tackle which Austin had been taking care of. Lazier booted the ball back to the goal in the kick off, it being brought out to the 20 yard line and play resumed. DeWitt could not gain or make a first down and punted to the center of the field. Come running the ball back ten yards. Downs circled left end for five yards and Lazier made four through center. Schofield dove through right tackle for four yards. A pass down to Wise was broken up and DeWitt took the ball in the center of the field. A five yard penalty was inflicted upon Dixon for off side and DeWitt took a five yard penalty for having too much time out. The visitors were playing a slow, ragged game. DeWitt failed to gain and punted. Heinze relieved Lazier at full and started in his plying. He gained seven yards to start off with then Downs made 17 around left end. Schofield made four and then Heinze added five more both plays being through the visitor's line as the whistle sounded closing the first half.

Third Quarter
Gardner went in for the first time this season and relieved Burke at right guard. Vaughan was calling signals from quarter. DeWitt kicked off and Wimpleberg received the kick. It was Dixon's ball on the 20 yard line. Heinze tore a hole in the line for eleven yards and then made five more through center when Dixon was penalized five yards for off side. The visitors intercepted a pass but the stone wall held and they punted to the 20 yard line. Downs made five through left tackle. Schofield three through center and two more through right tackle for first down. Heinze then punted through center for seven and Downs for three. A forward pass and on the first play tried their aerial. Schofield grabbing the pass out of the air. Poor interference led to Downs being carried back ten yards and Heinze made it up on the next play by a plunge through the line as the quarter closed.

Fourth Quarter
Every substitute that came with DeWitt was either in the game or had seen action by this time and they were weakening noticeably before the Legion's line attacks. Both teams failed to gain and punted at the outset of the final period and the ball was in the center of the field. On three straight plays, Heinze gained 18 yards through the line. Downs then went around left end for 18 advancing the ball to DeWitt's 29 yard line. Heinze made four, Scho-

Illinois Now Making Its Plans for Chicago Game

Urbana, Ill.—"On to the Midway" is the new slogan in the air of the fighting Illini. Followed by every rooter who can lay his hands on a ticket to the game on Stagz field next Saturday, Zuppke's lads will travel to the big town for the annual encounter with Mr. Stagz's Maroons.

Illinois' allotment of seats from the Chicago ticket committee was 9,500 which was only a drop in the bucket as compared to the demand from Illinois alumni and students. These tickets were long since oversubscribed and there isn't a chance in the world to buy one. Champaign and Urbana residents are being bombarded by out-of-town friends but they are helpless.

The Illini have plenty of tickets for their game at Minneapolis Nov. 15 but, of course, the trip to the Gopher stronghold is too long to permit a big crowd to make. As a result, the fans who cannot see the Chicago and Minnesota games look to the Illinois-Ohio game in the stadium on Nov. 23 for solace. Ohio is always a big drawing card at Illinois. The history of the contest is that there is always excitement no matter how the teams stand.

Illinois expects a big crowd for Ohio but anticipates that there will be plenty of room for everybody. Reports from Columbus say that the Ohio rooters are planning a big invasion of Illinois.

ILLINI FURTHER
IN LEAD IN BIG TEN CONFERENCEChicago Expected to Be Hard Opponent
for Grange & Co.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 3.—Another conference victory places Illinois still further in the lead in the Western Conference in points scored and Michigan goes into second place. Northwestern holds fourth place.

Ohio State was held to the third tie of the season, this time by Wooster, a non-conference eleven.

Notre Dame piled up a big total against Georgia Tech and ranks second to Illinois in the west.

Marquette lost its first game in three years to Creighton of Omaha, an old rival.

Standing of the teams with points in all games follow:

Illinois, 169; opponents, 30.
Michigan, 110; opponents, 39.
Indiana, 107; opponents, 60.
Northwestern, 103; opponents, 23.
Purdue, 75; opponents, 39.
Iowa, 69; opponents, 41.
Chicago, 64; opponents, 19.
Wisconsin, 56; opponents, 35.
Minnesota, 41; opponents, 33.
Ohio State, 27; opponents, 10.
Notre Dame 133; opponents, 10.
Marquette, 64; opponents, 27.

Expect Maroons to Show
Though Illinois continues to plow ahead in the lead for the 1924 football championship western conference, apparently without a rival strong enough to stop them, Chicago's eleven is expected to put up a formidable defense when they clash here Saturday.

Following the slashing the Illini gave Iowa Saturday last, scoring 36-0. Big Ten circles regard the Illinois eleven the most powerful of the ring and the cry now is "stop Grange."

Coach Zuppke, however, has shown his team almost equally as powerful in other players, notably Britton.

Illinois has three more strong opponents to conquer for the crown, namely Minnesota at Minneapolis, Nov. 15; Ohio State at Champaign, Nov. 22 and Chicago here Saturday.

Other games Saturday will be Northwestern against Michigan at Ann Arbor; Ohio State and Indiana at Columbus.

Iowa and Wisconsin are taking two weeks preparation for their clash on Nov. 15.

Chicago and Ohio State stand on the undefeated list but each has tie scores.

(Telegraph Special Service)
Mt. Morris, Ill., Nov. 3.—Mt. Morris College celebrated its annual Homecoming day Saturday and the affair proved to be the most successful event of the kind ever held by the college. Scores of former students and many friends of the school were in attendance and participated in the festivities of the day.

The feature attraction of the afternoon was the annual struggle on the gridiron between Mt. Morris college and their old rivals, DeKalb Normal, in which the latter team was defeated by a score of 37 to 0. In spite of the one-sided score the game was a fast one and bitterly fought, Mt. Morris earning every point she made. DeKalb played a good game but were unable to follow up their forward passes and were equally unable to maintain their line. Mt. Morris breaking through repeatedly for substantial gains. The splendid victory of the Mt. Morris team was the source of great pleasure for the alumni present and their rooting was equally as enthusiastic as that of the present students. Preceding the game there was a parade, headed by a band, from the business part of town to the play yard.

At 8 o'clock in the evening, a social gathering and program was held in Gymnasium Hall, which was gaily decorated in the college colors, autumn leaves and other appropriate decorations of the season, the hall taking on an aspect of Hallowe'en. The program consisted of a short address by President Brumbaugh of the college, short talks by members of the alumni and by the coach and captain of the football squad. Musical numbers were given by the college glee club and quartet. The program was interspersed with musical numbers by an orchestra. A two-act comedy was put on by students and this was followed by refreshments and a general social time.

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Responsibility

Give your children a definite responsibility early in life!

This was a practice with the Mann children on Anytown, each of whom was assigned to a task that had to be carried out either daily or weekly.

Since responsibilities are one day certain to overtake them, a gradual paying of the way makes the final break much easier.

Figure out some certain task, either around the house or in the neighborhood. Set a definite time for the carrying out of it and, if possible, try to keep it within a definite time. This establishes it as a routine.

Try to make the task something constructive and, also, let the child get in the habit of co-operating in a small way with the running of the establishment that he may come to identify himself with a share of the responsibility. If you have a house, some form of building or carpentering or light manual work is good.

A girl can be given little sewing and cleaning tasks.

NEW FIRE TRUCK
FOR ROCHELLE IS
PLAN OF COUNCILDemonstration of Apparatus Conducted By Factory Agents.

Rochelle—An expert is here demonstrating the new American-LaFrance fire truck which the City of Rochelle is contemplating buying. Wednesday afternoon a demonstration was held on Main street which was witnessed by the fire chief, city council and citizens. The new truck is equipped with a number of improved fire extinguishing appliances among which is a pump, which pumps water direct from the mains and with force sufficient to throw water on any building in the city on short notice and in case of fire the fire department will not have to wait for the city power plant to furnish the required amount of power before they can get action.

The new machine proves satisfactory the City Council will probably accept it within a short time. The American-LaFrance company takes the present truck which is of the same make, trade if the deal is made.

With this new machine the fire insurance companies should reduce the present rate for insurance on all city property.

Corsets Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

The Feathered Field Hat
When sportsmanship became the style and style became sportsmanship, new vistas were unrolled for the Fine Art of Dress. It took on more color and character; more ruggedness and ranginess; more freedom and flexibility. Even town clothes have been permanently affected by the creed of comfort which is A B C in the sportsman's primer. Notwithstanding the revival of some degree of formality in business wear, such as came back with the wing collar, the starched-front shirt and the single cuff, men will probably never again dress as in the old days, when the standing of a man-of-fashion was judged by the height of his standing collar.

However, there are well-defined boundaries of good form beyond which even the modern creed of comfort cannot be permitted to carry us. Sporting dress and town dress are two things apart and the styles for each must be kept separate. To wear a golf suit off the links or away from the country is in questionable taste or, rather, is it in unquestionably bad taste. We must "render, therefore, unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's," and not jumble clothes for the field with those for the function.

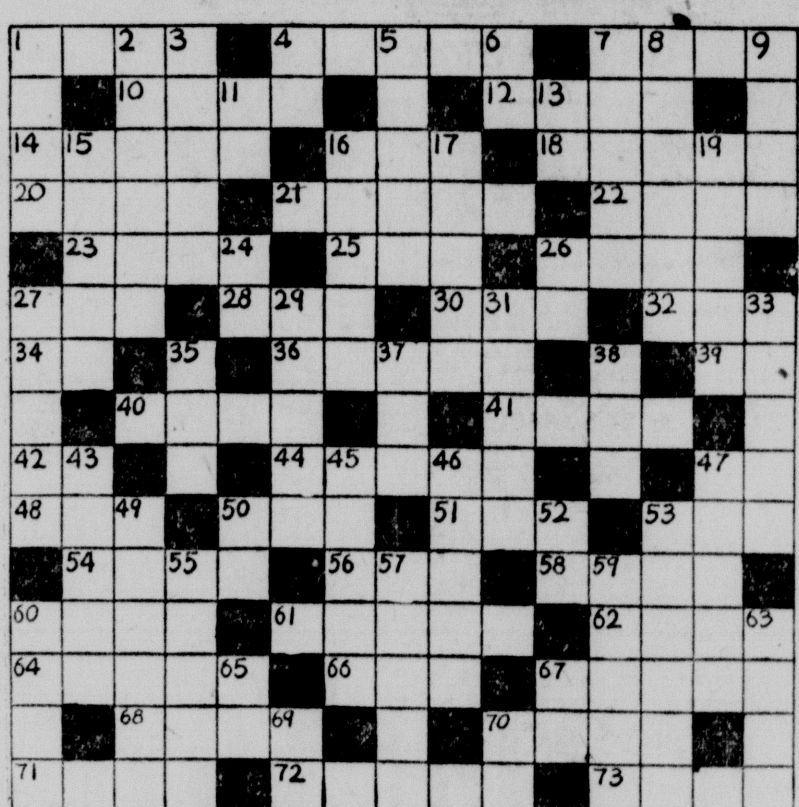

This is as true of hats as of any other article of wear. The slam-down, dipped-brim shape is wholly a country, knockabout and sporting style. Worn to business, it looks as out of place as a Fiji Islander in a ballroom. Practice selective judgment in the choice of your clothes. Keep them in their place and to their purpose. As has often been pointed out, just as important as what to wear is when and where to wear it.

The field hat with brim flipped down all around or upon one side, as illustrated in the sketch, is a shape to which sportsmen are still very indulgent. This is not the ordinary felt, but one of extremely light weight especially made to be comfortable and easily manipulated into various spruce shapes at the whim of the wearer.

The bright feather rakishly stuck into the bow of the ribbon is the survival of an old custom of the hunt. It lends a colorful and picturesque touch to one's hat, tallying with the cheery spirit of Outdoors when "fair laughs the morn and soft the zephyr blows."

The Affair at Flower Acres

©1924 by MEA Service Inc. WILLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Douglas Raynor is found slat through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Finley, who is a doctor, stands by the light switch. In a moment Nancy appears, white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother, Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley, Miss Martie, Raynor's sister, and others enter upon the scene. Detective Dobbins heads the police investigation. An autopsy reveals that Raynor also was being systematically poisoned with arsenic. Lionel Raynor, son of Douglas Raynor, by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate. Finley accuses Grimshaw Gannon, a hired man, of hiding the original will which favors Nancy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"The copy was found in your house."

"That doesn't prove the original is there."

"It proves that it may be," and Finley watched closely the changing countenance of the man.

"Maybe's a long way off," Gannon said.

He puzzled Finley; and Goddard, too, was at a loss just how to take him.

But as if by an inspiration, Finley said, suddenly, "Oh, of course you don't know anything about it. But we can get all necessary information from Peters—the other witness."

"Peters?" Gannon's face fell. "You don't know where he is."

"Oh, don't we!"

"Say—do you know where Peters is?" Gannon was whining now.

"We do. Now, here's your last chance, Gannon." This from Goddard. "Do you want to come down about the will—or take your chances on getting into trouble over the thing?"

Gannon considered. He looked from one to the other, and shrewdly concluded they were—partly, at least—bluffing.

"I'll take my chances," he said, and resumed his pipe.

And no amount of further cajolery, threatening or argument could gain any more information from him.

Detective Dobbins had a long session with Doctor Saxton. The family physician admitted that there had been occasions when he had felt a slight suspicion that Douglas Raynor indulged in morphine, but he had never seen sufficient definite symptoms to prove it to his own satisfaction. Dobbins' story of the morphine Nan threw away made him very thoughtful.

"I do wish I could prove your yarn," he said. "No, I've never suspected her of touching morphine herself—and I'm sure she wasn't an addict—but when a woman suffers as she has, it is not surprising if they turn to narcotics for relief."

"Never mind your opinions, Doc, get down to facts. Was there any trace of morphine found in the stomach of Douglas Raynor at the autopsy?"

"Not a trace," and Doctor Saxton looked carefully at the report he held.

"What would be the cure?"

"Why, atropine, of course."

"Was any trace of atropine mentioned in the report?"

"No," and again the doctor scrutinized the typewritten statement.

"But there was plenty of evidence of cumulative arsenical poisoning?"

"Plenty."

"Then the yarn falls to the ground. It was clever, but she's a clever woman. I believe, as you suggested, that her troubles forced her to the use of morphine. That she destroyed it rather than have it known to be in her possession. That she pretended it was her husband who took it to save her own reputation. And then, it came in handy to say the tablets she gave him secretly were to cure him of a drug habit—there are such things, aren't there?"

"Oh, yes. There are such remedies advertised, and many foolish, hopeful wives have secretly tried to cure their unsuspecting husbands of the drink or drug habit by such means."

"Why foolish wives?"

"Because it never succeeds, and usually worse trouble ensues."

"Well, the kind of morphine she threw away—white powder—is the kind that is taken internally, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"And would be found in the stomach after death?"

"If taken recently enough."

"Also atropine would show traces?"

"If taken recently enough."

"Well, as neither of those things are shown and as arsenic is shown

"MARRIED HIM AT YOUR FATHER'S ORDERS, EH?"

I'm betting that those tablets were arsenic and I'm going to work on that belief."

"You're a detective, and I'm only a doctor. But I've known Mrs. Raynor pretty well, and I can't bring myself to believe that she would poison her husband."

"Have you ever known of a woman who did kill her husband?"

The doctor thought a moment. "Yes—I have known of two cases."

"And in either case would you have believed that that woman would kill her husband?"

"No, I would not! I could scarcely believe it after I knew it was the truth."

"That's the answer," said Dobbins. "Now, you knew that the Raynors were not happy together, didn't you?"

"Nobody could be happy with that man. I don't see why she ever married him."

"Probably for his money."

"It must have been."

"Now, here's another point, Doctor. That nurse, had. Why did he have her?"

"Oh, Raynor was a diet crank—there are lots of them nowadays. She was a dietitian, and she dandered to his fads and fancies."

"Is that all there was to it?"

"So far as I know. What do you mean?"

"I didn't altogether like the doings of that nurse. I didn't like the way she looked at Mrs. Raynor—"

"Jealous?"

"Vindictive, rather. She bore Mrs. Raynor no good will—of that I'm sure. And she was a sly one. Moreover, she left hurriedly, and took with her a big sum of money."

"Whose?"

"Oh, her own—at least, they say it."

A Romance of the Spanish Main

CAPTAIN BLOOD

By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS.

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, who had been wrongfully condemned as a slave to the Barbadoes under King James, falls in love with Arabella, niece of the military commander, at Bridgetown. He leads his fellow rebels in an attack on a Spanish ship which had laid the city low and captures it. He sails for Tortuga, the rendezvous of the pirates of the Spanish Main. He accepts command of a buccanier fleet, with Levasseur, a Frenchman and his ship, under him. Madelon d'Ogeron, daughter of the friendly Dutch governor of Tortuga, is fascinated by Levasseur. Levasseur breaks faith with Blood and captures a Dutch brig on which is Madelon and her brother. Blood lands at the island where Levasseur proposes to hold the girl as hostage for ransom. Captain Blood pays the ransom. Levasseur draws and Captain Blood runs him through. Cahuac, his aide, enlists with Blood, who makes Madelon and her brother his guests on board his ship.

CHAPTER XV—Continued

That affair of Mademoiselle d'Ogeron bore as its natural fruit an improvement in the already cordial relations between Captain Blood and the Governor of Tortuga. It was not difficult then for Captain Blood to recruit able crews, and he might have increased the number of his ships as well, but he decided to hold to the three vessels which were his—the Arabella, the La Foudre and the Santiago, which he had rechristened the Elizabeth.

It was with this fleet that he carried out the enterprise against Maracaybo, an enterprise in which Peter Blood's daring was only surpassed by stupidity which almost turned the tide against him and delivered him and his men over to the tender mercies of his implacable enemy, Don Miguel de Espinosa y Valdez, the Admiral of Spain. Captain Blood had landed at Maracaybo and had found the town empty. Too soon he learned of the trap. Espinosa had put into the narrow neck of the bay with his ships and had bottled the buccanier in the bay. A sloop, captured by Captain Blood, was loaded with combustibles and powder and was sailed directly at the Spaniard until the grappels held the two like a vice. Then it was set afire. The Admiral's flagship burst into blaze, and the seamanship and hard fighting with his three ships made Captain Blood master of Maracaybo Bay. But, when the Spaniards turned tail for shore and he gave chase, the fort which guarded the bay and which had seemed deserted poured down a raking fire upon him and drove him in mortification and despair to take refuge in the town. The Spaniards secured themselves in the fort.

With a devil's luck and clear headed thinking Captain Blood feinted with preparations for a land attack after he had managed to acquire a large ransom in gold from the Governor of Maracaybo, and, opening a broadside, put the fort in flames. Captain Blood sailed for Tortuga. Don Miguel was left to chew the bitter cud of lost opportunity.

CHAPTER XVI

THE MILAGROSA

In Tortuga, during the months he spent there refitting the three ships he had captured from the fleet that had gone out to destroy him, he found himself almost an object of worship in the eyes of the wild Brethren of the Coast, all of whom now clamored for the honor of serving under him. It placed him in the rare position of being able to pick and choose the crews for his augmented fleet, and he chose fastidiously. When next he sailed away it was with a fleet of five fine ships in which went something over a thousand men. Thus you behold him not merely famous, but really formidable. Three captured Spanish vessels he had renamed with a certain scholarly humor the Clotho, Lachesis, and Atropos, a grimly jocular manner of conveying to the world that he made them the arbiters of the fate of any Spaniards he should henceforth encounter upon the seas.

And meanwhile the Spanish Admiral Don Miguel de Espinosa went raging up and down the Caribbean seeking his enemy, and in the meantime, as an hors-d'oeuvre to his vindictive appetite, he fell upon any ship of England or of France that loomed above his horizon. This illustrious sea-captain and great gentleman of Castile had lost his head. And so, reckless of the fact that Captain Blood was now in vastly superior strength, the Spaniard sought him up and down the trackless seas. But for a whole year he sought him vainly. The circumstances in which eventually they met are very curious.

On the 15th September of the year 1688—a memorable year in the annals of England—three ships were afloat upon the Caribbean, which in their coming conjunctions were to work out the fortunes of several persons. The first of these was Captain Blood's flagship the Arabella, which had been separated from the buccanier fleet in a hurricane off the Lesser Antilles. She was heading up for the Windward Passage homing for Tortuga, the natural rendezvous of the dispersed vessels. The second ship was the great Spanish galleon, the Milagrosa, which, accompanied by the smaller frigate Hidalgo, lurked off the Caymanes, to the north of the long peninsula that thrusts out from the southwest corner of Hispaniola. Aboard the Milagrosa sailed the vindictive Don Miguel. The third and last of these ships was an English man-of-war, the Royal Mary, which was at anchor in the French port of St. Nicholas on the northwest coast of Hispaniola. She was on her way from Plymouth to Jamaica, and carried on board a very distinguished passenger in the person of Lord Julian Wade, who came charged by his kinsman, my Lord Sunderland, with a mission of some consequence and delicacy, directly arising out of that vexatious correspondence between England and Spain.

To satisfy King James's anxiety to conciliate Spain, and in response to the Spanish Ambassador's constant and grievous expostulations, my Lord Sunderland, the Secretary of State, had appointed a strong man to the deputy-governorship of Jamaica. This strong man was that Colonel Bishop who for some years now had been the most influential planter in Barbados. From his first coming to Jamaica, Colonel Bishop had made himself felt by the buccaniers. But do what he might, the one buccanier whom he made his particular quarry—that Peter Blood who once had been his slave—eluded him ever. He confessed as much in a letter to the Secretary of State. My Lord Sunderland bethought him of the plan adopted with Morgan, who had been enlisted into the King's service under Charles II. It occurred to him that a similar course might be similarly effective with Captain Blood.

Acting upon this conclusion, Sunderland sent out his kinsman, Lord Julian Wade, with some commissions made out in blank. The crafty Sunderland, master of all labyrinths of intrigue, advised his kinsman that in the event of his finding Blood intractable, or judging for other reasons that it was not desirable to enlist him in the King's service, he should turn his attention to the officers serving under him, and by seducing them away from him leave him so weakened that he must fall an easy victim to Colonel Bishop's fleet.

The Royal Mary made a good passage to St. Nicholas, her last port of call before Jamaica. It was understood that as a preliminary Lord Julian should report himself to the Deputy-Governor at Port Royal, whence at need he might have himself conveyed to Tortuga. Now it happened that the Deputy-Governor's niece had come to St. Nicholas some months earlier on a visit to some relatives, and so that she might escape the insufferable heat of Jamaica in that season. The time for her return being now at hand, a passage was sought for her aboard the Royal Mary, and in view of her uncle's rank and position promptly accorded.

POLITICALBy H. H. Crabtree
(Former Dixite)

Los Angeles—Slinging mud at the President and the government of the United States, et cetera, Burton K. Wheeler, La Follette's choice for Vice-president, erstwhile I. W. W.

associate and sympathizer, has visited Los Angeles, poured out the offerings of his poison tongue, and departed.

One thing that Wheeler did say—one thing he proclaimed with more spirit than any other opinion he gave voice to—was the war record of La Follette. The war record of La Follette, of which Wheeler is proud, is:

Voted against the Declaration of War with Germany;
Voted against increase of the military establishment;

Voted against the Selective Service Act;

Voted against the Harding amendment, providing for Roosevelt volunteers;

Defended the sinking of the Lusitania by German submarine.

From his sick bed in Baltimore, W. G. McAdoo has issued a campaign creed in which he expresses "admiration and respect" for La Follette, makes the scantiest mention of Davis and vents his disappointment of President Coolidge. He knifes Davis by his reticence, while praising La Follette for his "courageous fight," and asserts that President Coolidge "has no sympathy with the common people," and that "the burning question of this campaign is graft and corruption."

He might attempt to explain his own orgy of extravagance and family free-pass and free-train scandal during his administration of the railroads, as well as explain to the satisfaction of the public that $50,000 oil retainer fee.

And Senator Walsh accuses President Coolidge of doing something that increases the price of sugar. Well, we all believe he is guilty, and also think he has done something to raise the price of corn, wheat, wool, hogs and cotton. The Republicans have been "doing things" to the people for these many years—ever since they came into power. First, they took away our slaves and raised the wages of labor and then passed the Woman Suffrage Act and the Prohibition law. Albert W. Atwood, financial editor of the Saturday Evening Post, now a

Most of the people supporting La Follette are not too well pleased with his record and his character, and he has much to answer for to the voters of California, as he obstructed every protective measure for its products, by either voting "no" in the Senate, or failing to vote.

IF YOU LOVE

BEAUTY—and which of us does not? There are scenes of such magnitude and splendor as to be almost breathtaking.

ROMANCE—you will thrill to the tale of a dashing nobleman and a sweet, unspoiled girl of the people.

ACTION—there are moments when the story moves at a pace so cyclone-fast that the blood will course through your veins at a like speed.

INTRIGUE—there is plot and counter-plot, an arch-villain who seeks to blast the happiness of two young hearts, and a mysterious figure which pursues him like a relentless Fury.

GOOD ACTING—you will find a vast cast, drawn from the ranks of Screenland's favorites headed by LON CHANEY, Patsy Ruth Miller, Norman Kerry, Ernest Torrence, Kate Lester, Tully Marshall, Raymond Hatten and Gladys Brockwell.

DRAMA—you will revel in one situation more tense than another, all of them building up to a tremendous, smashing, crashing climax.

GRANDEUR—you will see sets of glittering glory and lavish luxury, done on a far more magnificent scale than has ever before been attempted.

PATHOS—your heart will respond to the unselfish devotion of Quasimodo—the unquestioning love that made him a willing slave who neither asked nor expected reward for his services.
